

DEMOCRATS LOSE ASSEMBLY CONTROL

They Elect Only 55 Members;
Republicans Get 81 and Progressives 14.

BARNES PICKS SPEAKER

Wants Him to Rule Over Body, but His Choice Will Be Disputed.

The next State Assembly when it meets on January 7 will be organized only through the aid of the votes of Progressive Assemblymen elected yesterday. Of the 150 Assemblymen, the Democrats elected 55, the Republicans 81 and the Progressives 14.

In addition many of the Democratic Assemblymen elected were endorsed by the Progressives, and of the Republican Assemblymen elected 8 were endorsed by the Progressives.

Assemblyman Harold J. Hinman of Albany will be the candidate of Chairman William Barnes of the Republican State Committee for Speaker of the Assembly. Assemblyman Hinman has been quite a progressive Republican since he has been in the Assembly and will be favored for speaker by Lyth J. Arnold.

Assemblyman Hinman, however, will have strong opposition from Assemblyman John Lee Sullivan of Chautauque, Thaddeus S. Sweet of Oswego and John A. Smith of St. Lawrence.

It is not anticipated that ex-Gov. William Sulzer, who has been elected to the Assembly as a Progressive, will be taken seriously in the Assembly, either by the Progressives or by the Democrats.

James E. Townner, Republican, succeeds Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, resigned. The Twenty-sixth Senate district, comprising Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia counties. Mr. Roosevelt is now Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

John Davidson, Democrat, is apparently elected Senator from the Twenty-first district, which was represented by Stephen J. Stilwell, now in Sing Sing. This gives the Republicans one more in the Senate, but leaves the Democrats a majority.

NOISY THRON GETS "THE SUN" RETURNS

Every Available Inch of Space in Front of the Curtain Is Packed.

CROWDS ALL OVER CITY

Tin Horns in Abundance, but Enthusiasm of Other Years Is Lacking.

Even before it was dark enough to see that "a white light to the east, swinging north and south means Mitchell wins," as the directions for the tower displays ran, the crowds in front of the Sun building, attached to youthful representatives of the plain people, began to be heard from in front of the Sun office in Park Row on the south to points in the other direction much too far north for even a conscientious reporter to trek to.

It is understood, however, that despite the fact that New York had just gone through one of its most exciting campaigns, the election crowds of last night were noticeably thinner than on other election nights in the memory of the recent generation, especially during the earlier hours before the theatres turned their capacity audiences into Broadway.

Also, despite the din of horns and tin whistles and the making night noises, the hands of the clock on the tower, which early had the hands with the words "I Told You So" motto, let them on, there was generally speaking, a world lack of real enthusiasm.

Even the cops complain. "Sure, the crowds is thinner than other election nights," said a traffic cop in Long Acre Square who had been asked for an expert opinion. "And outside of them that makes a noise on general principles, there ain't the enthusiasm that—"

"Take a look—that shows it! There's a picture of Mitchell just flashed on the screen. Judge by extra noise, you never know that the winner's face had been shown to the crowd. Four years ago when they showed Gaynor on the sheet about this time everybody bust house. It's different tonight."

Out in front of the Sun's building in Park Row the crowd was larger than in any other section of the city. There was a solidly grouped array of humans far into city hall plaza.

All this time, skipping lightly over what once was Greeley and now is Herald Square, and Longacre, now Times Square, and climbing out of the subway, what is now known as Columbus Circle, but which undoubtedly will be changed, after Honorable Hearst's balls on his lot here, to Times Square.

Journal place, one came upon the quietest election night crowd, always excepting the bell ringers and horn blowers who ring and blow no matter how elections go, the city had seen.

The circle was pretty solidly packed, but the mob was giving most of its time to the peaceful enjoyment of more free movies than ever before had been placed before the thousands.

Far up on top of his column Honorable Columbus looked down upon the crowd he had discovered with an expression that seemed to say, so some one remarked, "If I had to do it over again, maybe I'd think twice."

Confusion in Signals.
The only real confusion of the night happened around Longacre Square. A crowd early assembled there that had been told that Mitchell was elected, a white light would flash to the east; if it were McCall, a white light to the west; if fusion won in New York county, a white light to the north.

Tammany was in the county, a white light to the south; if fusion won the Board of Estimate there would be a circle of white lights on the top of a skyscraper, and if Tammany won out in the board there would be a circle of red lights.

Early in the evening not only Manhattan, Hoboken, western Long Island and other localities grouped in Long Acre Square itself, but great numbers of editors living on the heights of Manhattan or plain citizens on the hills of Staten Island or seated on verandas at commanding positions north of the River who had field glasses trained on Manhattan noted a clear green light that shot north, east, south and west, with nothing like regularity.

If you were standing right in the square itself you soon were able to untangle the mixup. Far away at Montauk or Westchester, however, the confusion once did not have a first hand view and so were confused for hours, or until Diamond Jim Brady, who was wearing his Sunday suit, had tired of looking at the figures flashed on the sheet and had gone inside to his table at the Claridge and so had stopped out of the bright lights which had been beating upon his green studs.

MANY ASK NEWS FROM "THE SUN"

Rush of Telephone Calls; Thousands Watch Election Bulletins.
The Sun furnished election information to the public in more than one way last night.

Not only were thousands of persons grouped outside of The Sun building watching returns flashed on the screen, but hundreds of others who were unable to get down to Park Row relied on The Sun to furnish the required information over the telephone.

Although the telephone line to The Sun office are usually taxed to their capacity by regular business, a way was found to furnish the information desired as promptly and fully as possible.

Almost from the time the polls closed at 5 P. M. the calls for information began. The rush of calls continued until it was certain that Mr. Mitchell was elected.

The requests for information were not confined to the results of the Mayoralty contest. There was much interest displayed in the outcome of the other important contests.

SIX readers in New Jersey were among those who got information over the telephone. They were chiefly interested in the result of the Jersey gubernatorial election.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP INDIANA.

Republicans Make Gains, but Progressive Vote Falls Off.
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—The Democrats were generally successful throughout Indiana today in the city elections, but the vote shows a falling off. In this city the Democratic nominees for Mayor and other city officers were elected by pluralities ranging from 5,000 to 8,500. In Evansville, Muncie, Crawfordsville and other important cities the Democrats also fell off.

The Progressive vote showed a marked falling off in this city. The Progressive nominee for Mayor and the Republican nominee ran neck and neck, each polling about 12,000 votes. This represents a falling off of about 6,000 votes for the Progressives, as compared with last year.

In Muncie, Delaware county, a stronghold of the Progressives last year, the sixty-sixth smallest vote in the election, while in this city the Progressives made large gains over the vote of last year.

"DIDN'T TELL HALF THE FACTS." Believed the Whole Truth.

Shortly before midnight John A. Hennessy made the following statement:
"The only thing in my mind when I began my part of the campaign was to force a fusion of the anti-Tammany voters. I know the city as well as any man who has lived in it for three years."
"New York always has been a sane city, but sometimes a good kick was necessary to make its sanity get to a normally active state. I did what I could to give the people a kick. Were I a candidate the campaign from my standpoint would have been polite, not to say decorous."

Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Prendergast and Mr. McHenry crowded that to the finest point. There were gallant men in the contest that brought to them provocation every day. They lifted themselves above the baseness of every insult.

"I got a little bit wide of a fairly decent mark, but did so in a good cause, believing that the city should be stirred to the point of leaving its real peril. A wholly decent campaign against Tammany would have lost the day. It had to be my part halfway straight from the shoulder, and I was a hundred hands off. I know that fewer than ten thousand persons in the five boroughs knew me personally."

"I can say now, in all truth, that I didn't tell half the facts. I was told that fewer than ten thousand persons in the five boroughs knew me personally."

KINGS DEMOCRATS MEET BAD DEFEAT

The Entire Republican County
Ticket Wins by Good Majorities.

BULL MOOSE VOTE SMALL

Republicans Make Big Gains in Borough's Assemblymen and Aldermen.

The Kings County Democracy met yesterday one of its worst Waterloo in the history of the party. Its defeat all along the line being more disastrous than that of two years ago, when the Republicans were united and elected their candidates on the county ticket by pluralities ranging from 10,000 to over 25,000.

The first returns that came in last night showed a big gain in almost every instance over those of 1911 and the leaders gathered at Republican headquarters in Montague street were greatly elated as well as much surprised. The average gains, when the results in ten of the 24 election districts were received, indicated that Mitchell's plurality might reach 5,000 and that the entire Republican county and borough tickets would be elected.

The smallness of the Bull Moose vote, compared with that cast for Roosevelt last year, caused evident satisfaction to the Republican managers, the shrinkage being from more than 70,000 to about 20,000. Jacob A. Livingston, chairman of the Republican executive committee, said: "The big thing about this election is a return to the Republican ranks of the people who left us last year. The reduction of the Progressive vote in Brooklyn of 40,000 means a bright future for the Republican party."

There was only a small gathering of the faithful party chiefs at Democratic headquarters and no one could recall a more gloomy night at the Thomas Jefferson Building. John H. McCooey early in the evening admitted the election of Mitchell. He declined to make any formal statement on the result. Horace A. Motz, secretary for the fusion candidate, was admitted.

The candidates elected.
The successful candidates in the last election were: President—Lewis H. Boardman, who ran on the Republican, Progressive and Independence League tickets, over Frank Macin.
Surrogate—Henry Regulation, Republican, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
Sheriff—Lewis A. Swasey, Republican, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
County Clerk—Charles S. Devoy, Republican, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
Register—Edward T. O'Leighy, Republican, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
Prothonotary—James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
Recorder—James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
County Engineer—James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive, over James J. McRoberts, Democrat and Progressive.
